1. UNITED KINGDOM (as at 20 May 2020)
Travers Smith LLP Douglas Bryden Alex MacBean	National action taken with full and partial lockdown measures implemented from 23 March 2020 Note - while Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland are generally aligned with this approach each will have some regional variances.		Schools only to remain open for children who are vulnerable and for children of critical workers who cannot arrange alternative care.	Current measures are reviewed every three weeks with UK government announcing a "roadmap" out of lockdown on 10 May 2020. The roadmap was published on 11 May 2020 here , setting out three steps to take the UK out of lockdown, with the following key dates flagged: Step One (from 13 May 2020) Individuals are allowed to take more (can be unlimited) amounts of outdoor exercise, spend time outside and one individual may meet another individual from outside their household provided
			All but essential travel is advised against, both outside and within the country. Individual mobility is restricted save for in relation to essential and specific work activities. NB: The UK government has announced plans to impose further restrictions on international arrivals (by imposing 14-day quarantine requirements). Small exemptions (such as within common areas) may exist.

			Bars, clubs, restaurants and cafes (as well as cinemas, theatres and museums) are required to shut. NB: Some restaurants able to stay open for takeaways while maintaining social distancing rules.	they maintain 2 meter distancing rules; Step Two (from 1 June 2020) Phased reopening of shops (i.e. non-essential retails) and a phased return for primary pupils (in Reception, Year 1 and Year 6) potentially allowed back to school. Department of Education to provide further guidance on how schools can facilitate this. Cultural and sporting events permitted to take place behind closed doors and re-opening of more local public transport in urban areas (subject to strict distancing measures); and Step Three (from 1 July 2020) Earliest date from which it is hoped that some of the higher-risk businesses may reopen. Such as hospitality industry (hotels, pubs and restaurants) personal care (i.e.
	Gyms including outdoor gyms, play-parks and kiosks are closed. EASEMENTS: Most parks remain open for people to undertake exercise. From 13 May 2020 people may go outside and use outside spaces such as parks for unlimited amounts of physical exercise per day and to sit and spend time (maintaining 2m distancing rules).
	All retail shops are closed, except for food shops, pharmacies, corner shops, hardware stores, petrol stations, pet shops, post offices, banks, newsagents and shops inside hospitals.

			All gatherings and events of more than two people are banned except for members of your own household. NB: Funeral services may continue to take place if social distancing measures are followed.	hairdressers and salons) and other leisure facilities (i.e. cinemas) will be allowed to reopen. Note – (1) cinemas, pubs, gyms, and hairdressers and mass gatherings (including sporting events with crowds) are not expected to be permitted before the Autumn; (2) the above steps are subject to implementation of social distancing measures and scientific advice and may be reversed in the event that community transmission rates regress; and (3) Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland have retained "Stay at Home" orders contrary to the English Government's movement to "Stay Alert" order.
			In England, Scotland and Wales work is consolidated into fewer buildings with 74 courts temporarily closed, 160 courts open for essential face-to-face hearings and 116 staffed courts operating virtual/ remote hearings. In Northern Ireland, court business is to be consolidated into five main courts with only urgent matters (including various criminal, family and civil matters) to be addressed by way of court hearing, (with the rest to be determined by a judge without a hearing). NB: There are specific practice directions in place for the operation of hearings and deadlines during the COVID-19 crisis and there have been a number of court decisions regarding the circumstances in which extensions of time will be given/trials delayed (which is not automatic).

2. AUSTRIA (as at 19 May 2020)
WOLF THEISS Horst Ebhardt, Simona Shpilsky	National action taken with full and partial lockdown measures which were implemented from 15 March 2020 will partially come to an end on 1 May 2020. Note: Further easements of current restrictions are ongoing.		Universities, Schools and childcare institutions have been closed since 16 March 2020. Primary schools to only provide for childcare in exceptional cases (i.e. to children of critical workers who cannot arrange for alternative care or to children whose parents are unable to take care of them at home for other personal reasons). EASEMENTS: From 4 May senior year pupils may return with primary and junior high students returning from 18 May.	Lockdown restrictions to be progressively repealed from 1 May 2020. The obligation to keep one metre from people who are not in the same household remains applicable. Further easements of restrictions have either already been implemented or are expected on a staggered basis as follows: Schools: Pupils to return gradually in the following order: on 4 May 2020 pupils in their senior year, on 18 May 2020 primary school and junior high school pupils and on 3 June 2020 the remaining pupils. Pupils will be divided into two groups, with the first group

Liedekerke Waelbroeck Kirkpatrick Dominique Devos	Wolters National action taken with full and partial lockdown measures implemented from 23 March 2020.		Schools closed, but able to provide day-care for children of critical workers who cannot arrange alternative care. Teachers may provide digital education (“pre-teaching” of subjects	Most measures will last until 17 May 2020 at least, but many are currently expected to be extended beyond that date (with measures for the judiciary expected to last until 3 June 2020 at least).

			to be repeated once in physical classes start again).	The federal government is taking a phased approach to lifting measures, with most shops having reopened on 11 May 2020 and schools to open gradually from 18 May (with caps on the number of pupils in each class). These plans are not yet finalised, and they remain strictly dependent on a positive evolution in the pandemic's impact on the public health system.
			All but essential travel is forbidden, both outside and within the country.
			Bars, clubs, restaurants and cafes required to shut down. NB: Take-away and delivery remain possible if social distancing can be guaranteed.
			Gyms including outdoor gyms, play-parks and kiosks are closed. NB: Most parks and nature reserves remain open. Physical exercise with family living under the same roof, or one (and always the same) friend are permitted for the time being, although parking space is often deliberately limited to avoid large-scale displacement of visitors.

			EASEMENTS: From 11 May 2020 all retail shops are permitted to reopen. Beauty, nail and pedicure salons, massage parlours, barbers, wellness and fitness centres, tattoo and piercing shops and gambling establishments are excluded from this easement and remain shut.
			All gatherings and events are banned. NB: Exceptions for funeral services (maximum of 15 attendees), wedding ceremonies (only wedding couple, two witnesses and officiant).
			Ongoing legal proceedings will in principle automatically be taken into consideration by judges without a physical hearing. In some cases, the hearing will be conducted by videoconference. All judicial deadlines are extended. Courts and registries remain open for urgent and critical functions and proceedings.

Plesner Law Firm Niels Chr. Ellegaard	National action taken with full and partial lockdown measures introduced periodically, with the most significant lockdown measures implemented between 13 – 18 March 2020.		All schools and universities have been closed since 18 March 2020. However, urgent care may be arranged for children who are vulnerable and for children of critical workers who cannot arrange alternative care. EASEMENTS: As of 15 April, elementary schools are allowed to open up for the youngest classes, and high schools are allowed to open up for the graduating classes. However, specific social distancing rules must be complied with. Further, as of 18 May, the older classes of elementary school and certain other schools are allowed to reopen, with schools and universities allowed to conduct lectures and undertake exams requiring physical attendance. Specific social distancing rules must be complied with for all classes.	On 30 March 2020, the Prime Minister announced that the Government would begin a cautious, gradual and controlled reopening of the society from 14 April 2020. This initial phase ("phase 1") of the reopening included the youngest classes in elementary schools, the reopening of liberal professions, and reopening of the courts. Phase 2 and 3 of this gradual reopening was announced on Thursday 30 April and Friday 1 May. Phase 2 includes the reopening of shopping centers and malls, cafes and restaurants, and the older classes of elementary school. Phase 3 will begin on 8 June. The exact details are yet to be revealed, as the government is awaiting the consequences of phase 2. However, things that may be reopened in

			All but essential travel is advised against, both outside and within the country, but not prohibited as such. A border control has been created, and entry in Denmark is not allowed unless a legitimate purpose can be established.	phase 3 include cultural institutions and parts of the public sector. All zoos, museums, theatres, cinemas, outdoor amusement parks etc. are expected to be allowed to reopen. Further, the ban on gatherings will be raised from 10 to 30-50 persons (with the exact number to be announced, as it will depend on the consequences of previous easements). The final phase 4 is expected to take place in August and will include the reopening of all remaining schools and universities, gyms, clubs and nightlife. Finally, large gatherings of more than 500 people will be prohibited until September, precluding festivals and other large events during the summer.
	Bars, clubs, pubs etc. are required to shut down. NB: Serving guests in restaurants and cafes is not allowed but restaurants and cafes are able to stay open for takeaways while maintaining social distancing rules. EASEMENTS: On 18 May, cafés, restaurants and bars are allowed to reopen. Social distancing rules (the specifics hereof to be revealed) must still be complied with, and bars are not allowed to remain open after midnight.
	Indoor sports and leisure facilities etc., must close. The ban does not

			include facilities for necessary rehabilitation. Parks remain open but some playgrounds and outdoor gyms are closed. Golf courses, outdoor riding courses and climbing parks are still allowed to stay open if governmental guidelines are complied with. EASEMENTS: As of 7 May professional sports may reopen without audience. The first game of the highest Danish Football league is scheduled to the 28 May. As of 11 May, outdoor sports may reopen. However, the ban on gatherings still applies, and no more than 10 persons may be gathered at a time. On 18 May, zoos in which the guests can drive through are allowed to reopen.
			EASEMENTS: As of 11 May, shopping centers, malls, covered arcades and

			any stores located in such shopping centers and malls are allowed to reopen. Consequently, the ban on opening retail stores is lifted completely. However, all retail stores must still comply with social distancing rules and restrictions are in place as to how many people are allowed inside the stores.
			All gatherings and events of more than ten people (including concerts, sports events etc.) are banned. NB: The ban does not apply in private homes and does not prevent more than 10 people from being present at the same place in a usual way (e.g. at work, a supermarket, an airport or at a train station). The prohibition also does not apply if the gathering is for a political purpose. Funeral services and other religious gatherings can take place as well.
			EASEMENTS: The courts and tribunals reopened on 27 April 2020.

			Social distancing rules must be complied with, but the courts estimate that up to 75 percent of cases can be tried. Criminal cases and civil cases, e.g. cases concerning domestic relations, will be prioritized.

Noerr LLP Prof. Dr. Christian C.-W. Pleister	National action taken with full and partial lockdown measures agreed at both federal and state level from 19 March 2020. General easement of lockdown measures implemented on federal and state level from 06 May 2020. Note - implementation of lockdown measures and easements varies from state to state, and, therefore, may result in more or less restrictive		Schools are being reopened gradually as of 4 May 2020, contingent on the implementation of strict protective measures and a minimum distance requirement of 1.5 metres onwards, with students in graduating classes taking priority. The use of non-medical face masks is not mandated. NB: Federal states are taking varying approaches to the reopening of schools, however, uniformly aim to reopen to the general student body by the end of the school year, if only on a staggered basis.	Some states are also pushing for the gradual reopening of international travel. The federal government, in close cooperation with other EU member states, is developing plans for allowing international travel, in particular to vacation destinations in the south of Europe.

	measures than agreed on the federal level. Re-implementation of lockdown measures shall be taken on district levels if weekly new infections exceed 50 per 100.000 people.		Universities largely remain closed. EASEMENTS: Domestic travel restrictions have mostly been lifted. Restrictions on the use of camping sites, vacation rental homes and hotels have been eased as of 18 May 2020, subject to strict conditions and varying from state to state. Non-essential international travel is still largely advised against. A two-week quarantine is imposed on any person entering the country. Citizens of EU member states, as well as citizens of the United Kingdom, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway and Switzerland are allowed to travel through Germany to reach their home country if no other travel connection is possible. They will also be allowed to enter if their home or legal residence is in Germany. Other travellers may be refused entry if they cannot provide proof of urgent reasons for entry.
--	--	--	--	--

EASMENTS: As of 18 May, all federal states are allowing for restaurants, bars, beergardens and ice cream parlours to reopen, contingent on compliance with the minimum distance requirement of 1.5 metres and the implementation of strict protective measures. The measures vary from state to state and include, but are not limited to: seating requirements, limitation of the number of guests, recording of contact details of guests for follow-up in the event of a later infection, contactless payment procedure, the use of non-medical masks, etc.

NB: Restaurants able to serve takeaways while maintaining social distancing rules are allowed to stay open. Delivery is unaffected.

Theatres, cinemas, and clubs largely remain closed. Only some states have allowed for theatres and cinemas to reopen, contingent on compliance with the minimum distance requirement and the implementation

			of protective measures (eg. Hessen, Schleswig Holstein, Nordrhein Westfalen). EASEMENTS: Museums may be reopened, contingent on the implementation of strict access controls (eg. limiting the number of admission tickets) and other protective measures..
			EASEMENTS: Sports halls and grounds are allowed to reopen for private use or in small groups. Professional sports clubs are allowed to resume training under very strict conditions. Fitness club operations are allowed to reopen in most states, contingent on the implementation of strict hygiene and access controls. Playgrounds are reopened. The outdoor facilities of zoos, animal parks and botanical gardens may also be reopened contingent on the implementation of strict access controls (eg. limiting the number of admission tickets).

			Generally, all shops are allowed to reopen if additional conditions regarding hygiene, access and queue controls as well as measures to restrict the total number of customers are in place. Customers are required to wear non-medical face masks. Service providers where physical proximity is essential (e.g. hairdressers) may reopen as of 4 May 2020, contingent on the implementation of hygiene measures, access and queue controls, as well as the use of personal protective equipment. Customers are required to wear non-medical face masks. Services that require the removal of face masks (e.g. shaving of facial hair) are prohibited. The use of non-medical face masks is mandatory in public transportation.
--	--	--	--	--

			Mass gatherings are prohibited until 31 August 2020. Demonstrations of limited groups of people – number varies from state to state – are allowed, under strict hygiene and social distancing conditions. However, some state and city authorities have not objected to demonstrations with several thousand participants. The contact prohibitions and the minimum distance requirement of 1.5 metres will remain in force. However, people from one household are allowed to meet with people from one other household in public. NB: Most states, in adherence with strict conditions, allow for public church services to be held, restricted to up to 50 worshippers and social distancing requirements in place.
--	--	--	---	--

			Courts and tribunals are to remain open and continue albeit with restrictive measures to reduce personal contact. To date, there is no uniform policy in place and whether an appointment should be carried out, remains the decision of the sitting judge. The Federal Chamber of Lawyers ("Bundesrechtsanwaltskammer") advises keeping access to the courts at a minimum, setting deadlines as generously as possible and treating requests for extensions of deadlines favourably. NB: Some states have allowed for civil proceedings to be conducted via video conference, as regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Advokatfirman Vinge KB Charlotte Levin	Partial actions have been taken. In general, the government has urged citizens to act responsibly and follow social distancing guidelines rather than issuing binding decisions. However, the government has issued certain binding decisions and the Swedish Public Health Agency has issued recommendations and regulations. However, no general lockdown measures have been taken. Note - pursuant to a recently passed law, the government has		Secondary schools, universities and other institutions of higher education have been closed. All other schools (inter alia primary schools) remain open. The decision was issued on 17 March.	In general, the Swedish government has urged citizens to act responsibly and follow social distancing guidelines rather than putting in place lockdown measures. Consequently, while some measures have specific time limitations at present (such as travel restrictions) no exit proposals are so far either required or proposed.
			The government has imposed a temporary ban on non-essential travel to Sweden except from countries within the EEA and Switzerland. Swedish citizens and people who are resident in Sweden may however return to Sweden. The temporary entry ban entered into force on 19 March and is currently

In addition, the government has recommended that domestic travel should be limited to travels corresponding to one to two hours by car from the residence and has urged people to be responsible if travelling. Effective from 14 March and applied until 15 July, the Ministry for Foreign Affairs advise against all non-essential travel abroad.
			Certain restrictions are imposed for restaurants, bars and cafés. Each business must ensure that guests can keep a distance to one another and serving guests standing at bars is not allowed.
			No restrictions. However, several gyms and other sporting events have voluntarily decided close or change their operations as a result of the recommendations from the Swedish Public Health Agency. In particular, the Swedish Public Health Agency has urged organisers of children sports

			activities to continue with sports activities, preferably outside with social distancing.
			All grocery stores, pharmacies and retail shops remain open. The Swedish Public Health Agency has however advised people over the age of 70 to avoid shopping in stores such as pharmacies and grocery stores. Further, all grocery stores, pharmacies and retail shops have an obligation to take actions in order to reduce the spread of the coronavirus. The obligation is fulfilled by limiting the number of customers allowed at once and to introduce alternatives to queues for cash registers and enabling social distancing.
			All public events and gatherings with more than 50 people are banned. The government has also imposed a ban on visiting retirement homes.

	restrictions imposed at both a Federal and at a State/Territory level to consider and such restrictions may vary between States and Territories.		The three-step plan adopted by the National Cabinet has recommended that universities and technical colleges should increase face-to-face where possible and prioritise hands on skills based learning.
			Travel outside Australia is prohibited unless an exemption is granted on limited grounds such as compassionate grounds, for the conduct of critical industries, or for reasons in the national interest. All international arrivals in Australia are required to undertake a mandatory 14-day quarantine at their first port of arrival. Queensland and Western Australia borders remain closed aside from limited exemptions. Northern Territory, Tasmania and South Australia still require that all non-essential interstate travellers quarantine for 14 days after arrival. As the restrictions ease following the Federal Government's 8 May 2020

			announcement, some states will permit regional travel. Regional travel is permitted in certain areas in Northern Territory. Queenslanders may travel 150km from home for recreational day trips (and this may increase to overnight recreational travel up to 250 km from 12 June). Western Australia will permit travel within certain regions of the state; however, an exemption (relating to certain specified purposes for travelling) will still be required for travel between these regions. South Australia is encouraging regional travel to rebuild regional economies. Regional travel will be permitted from 1 June in New South Wales. While not prohibited, non-essential travel is discouraged in Victoria. is encouraging regional travel to rebuild regional economies. New South Wales has maintained a ban on regional travel and, while not

However, it is unlikely that this will be implemented soon. The three-step plan does not contemplate an easing of international travel restrictions.
			EASEMENTS: By 15 May 2020, all states and territories will permit cafes and restaurants to reopen for dine in. Most require a 10 patron maximum, as well as a room density of 4 square metres per person however from 1 June 2020, Victorian cafes and restaurants will seat up to 20 people at a time.. Pubs without restaurants must remain shut, with the exception of Northern Territory, Western Australia and Tasmania (however,

			the latter two impose maximum occupancy restrictions). Food courts are to remain closed to seated patrons.
			EASEMENTS: As of 15 May 2020, all states and territories will permit outdoor exercise in groups of up to 10 people and outdoor gyms/park exercise equipment may be used. Outdoor public pools will reopen subject to varying occupancy restrictions (generally a limit of 10 people at a time). Western Australia and Northern Territory will permit non-contact sports to be played.
			Retail shops may continue to trade but must adhere to social distancing guidelines, specifically the 1 person per 4 square metres rule. This rule requires at least four square metres of space available for every 1 person in the indoor area.

		NB: While hairdressers and barber shops may remain open (while ensuring social distancing between customers), beauty therapy businesses, spas and massage parlours generally remain closed. EASEMENTS: In Queensland and Northern Territory some beauty therapy salons may reopen for non-facial services such as nails and tanning.
			EASEMENTS: The States and Territories have largely planned to implement Step 1 of the Federal Government’s framework, with most changes taking effect by Friday, 15 May 2020. Under the amended restrictions, all States and Territories will permit outdoor gatherings of up to 10 people, and 5 visitors allowed within the home. Generally speaking, weddings will be permitted to have 10 guests, plus the couple and celebrant. Indoor funerals

			may have 20 mourners, with 30 mourners permitted for an outdoor funeral. Religious gatherings may have 10 attendees plus those required to conduct the service or ceremony. Public spaces in some states have reopened such as outdoor pools, libraries and play equipment, with further openings expected from 1 June 2020, including museums and galleries in New South Wales. Use of these spaces is subject to restrictions such as an occupancy limit of 10 people. Social distancing rules must still be adhered to however, which require individuals to keep a distance of 1.5 metres and that all gatherings maintain a density of 1 person per 4 square metres.
			Process varies in each jurisdiction however parties are strongly advised to resolve matters where possible. The High Court of Australia will not be sitting from April to June 2020;

			however, special leave applications and urgent matters will be dealt with via video link. Most State and Territory courts will hear matters via video or teleconference, however, some matters will proceed as usual where compliance with public health directions on social distancing can be ensured. NB: Litigants should familiarise themselves with the specific measures adopted in each court and comply with practice directions issued by the relevant court(s).
